Ally Pally to secure its future as concert venue

DRAMATIC plans for the future of Alexandra Palace will be music to the ears of those who feared for its future.

On Monday the board of trustees approved plans to transform the iconic palace into a prestigious live music venue to rival the O₂ and Southbank Centre.

Over the next three months management will search for a major music operator to help run the venue, put into place a fundraising strategy and begin the "master planning" which the board hopes will transform the fortunes of the dilapidated building with a chequered history.

Last month, former Haringey Council leader Charles Adje was suspended after being found guilty of misconduct over the bungled attempted lease of the palace. The decision was taken after it emerged he had failed to inform other trustees about a crucial briefing note which advised against the license for the palace being given to property developer Firoka. The company had been set to build a hotel and casino at the historic venue, as well as a restaurant, banqueting suite and business facilities.

An agreement which gave Firoka permission to run the palace on a 125-year lease was quashed by the High Court in 2007. An independent report found the council lost an estimated £1.5million as a result of the botched deal.

"It is very exciting and we hope Alexandra Palace will be known not just as the live music venue for London, but across the world," said managing director Rebecca Kane.

"We considered the iconic status of the building and the heritage – this building was built in 1873 when leisure, entertainment and music were the core things happening here."

The plan involves using the Great Hall and possibly the West Hall or theatre to host bands and artists throughout the year while the rest of the space could be used for other musical events, with hotels, bars and restaurants arriving on the back of the initiative.

"The Great Hall is London's largest standing venue, able to host 10,400 people," added Ms Kane. "We've been in decline so the challenge is redefining ourselves." Trust interim general manager Andrew Gill revealed that £29m of investment is needed just to restore the deteriorating building – which has also been hit by two devastating fires – which has left more than 50 per cent of the existing shell unusable.

He also hopes that the planning process will take between six to nine months so that in a year's time, they will be, "sitting here with a fully formed master plan with our key operator secured, then we'll have a better sense of what's in store in future."

Never mind the ballots – it's a 'yes' to AV here

By Rykesha Hudson

HARINGEY residents voted in favour of changing the current voting system used in UK Parliament in a referendum.

In the first national referendum in 35 years, Haringey voted to support the change of the current first-past-the-post system to the alternative vote, however the majority of the country voted against change.

The borough was one of just six in London where people voted 'yes' to AV.

Out of the 150,299 eligible voters in the borough, 35.7 per cent of them put a cross on the ballot paper on May 5.

Results showed that 56.6 per cent voted in favour of AV and 43.38 per cent voted against.

Lynne Featherstone, Liberal Democrat MP for Hornsey and Wood Green was pro-AV.

She said: "It was very heart-warming to see the people of Haringey so resoundingly saying yes to fairer votes on Thursday. Sadly, the fantastic result we got here in Haringey was not echoed elsewhere."

She added: "But I am pleased that locally we not only had an above the London average turnout, people really engaged with the campaign and the issues. I'm proud of Haringey and of the many engaged and enthusiastic residents who live here."

ANNE-MARIE SANDERSON

Under AV voters number the candidates in order of preference. A candidate would need to receive a minimum of 50 per cent of the votes cast in the ballot.

Leader of Lib Dems steps down

LIBERAL DEMOCRATS in Haringey are set to find out who their new leader will be after Robert Gorrie steps down from the helm tonight.

Mr Gorrie, who took on leadership of the Lib Dem group in Haringey in 2008, has decided to leave the post to give his successor time to prepare for the next local elections in 2014.

He will officially conclude his term of office at his party's annual general meeting this evening where a new leader will also be elected.

Mr Gorrie said it had been a "great pleasure" to play a part in many successful campaigns but admitted that stepping down would give him more time to spend with voters in Hornsey – what he described as the "most enjoyable" part of the job.

Sweet kitchen chock-a-block with goodness

ANNE-MARIE SANDERSON

Reward: The finished heart-shaped treats

ONE inventive chocoholic is on a mission of Willy Wonka proportions. Liz Bygrave, from Muswell Hill, is helping people all over the country indulge their sweet tooth without any of the guilt. Rather than a naughty treat crammed with refined sugar and bad fats, her workshops conjure up the impossible – chocolate that is actually good for you. Liz’s cosy kitchen is the hub for Sweet Sensations which spreads the joy of raw chocolate and dessert recipes that are totally free from wheat, dairy and sugar while being chock-full of antioxidants and other nutrients. For the past four years, vegans,

By

those with food intolerances and mums looking for healthy alternatives for their families have been lured to the Barnard Hill hive to make their own chocolate bars, truffles, mousses and more. “Every time I run a workshop, someone always comes up with a new flavour combination,” says

Liz. “Lemon chocolate was a new one on me and worked a treat; and rose with cardamom was delicious. Children tend to have fantastic imaginations for flavours – a girl suggested Chinese five-spice as an ingredient for her chocolate bars and the result tasted gorgeous.”

IN HER Aladdin’s cave of exotic ingredients, Liz reaches for a jug of creamy powder that exudes the homely fragrance of shortbread. This, she tells us, is lucuma powder – a pulverised Peruvian superfruit packed with betacarotene which lends a dairy-free creaminess to chocolate and desserts.

Another aromatic jug yields nibs of minimally processed raw chocolate – or cacao – one of the most antioxidant-rich foods on the planet and the basis for most of Liz’s confections. Sweetener comes in the form of agave syrup, xylitol and coconut sugar which offer natural alternatives to the refined variety which sends blood-sugar levels spiking and then crashing – the all-too-familiar chocolate “high” which is over all too soon.

Liz became a vegetarian at the age of 22 and has worked as a natural health therapist since the early 1990s. It was while “Wwoofing” (world-wide opportunities on organic farms) in western Australia that she became more interested in the health benefits of raw food.

“I was staying with a family who really piqued my interest in how minimally cooked food can boost health,” she says. “And it was absolutely perfect for me because I’m a terrible cook! I have a very sweet tooth so I was thrilled to find that I could make chocolate with minimal cooking.

“The ingredients will melt at low temperatures – a bowl over a candle will do – and it’s ready so quickly that sometimes I’ll have a chocolate urge in the evening and I’ll make some, knowing I can get my fix really quickly.”

As testament to this, Liz proffers a bowl of melted chocolate which feels only slightly warmer than body temperature and we stir in some glittering ruby-coloured dried strawberry granules before pouring into moulds and leaving in the freezer to set. Fifteen minutes later, darkly glossy hearts emerge that melt in the mouth and set off a flavour explosion on the tastebuds.

“One of the side-effects of the raw chocolate is its power to stimulate,” explains Liz. “And it has mood-altering qualities thanks to its content of anandamide, also known as the bliss chemical, and PEA which boosts serotonin, tryptophan and dopamine. You might not want to eat it late because it can keep you up, and be warned that it can have aphrodisiac properties!”

With this in mind, we stop short of cramming the whole batch in our mouths and leave the magic kitchen with a mild buzz.

Sweet Sensations offers public and private workshops, chocolate-making kits, moulds, recipes and the finished article. Visit www.sweetsensations.uk.com.

Cash to get bikes out on the roads

By Monica Gibson

CYCLING in the borough has been given a £325,000 cash boost to improve routes and get residents back on their bikes.

Haringey Council was one of 13 local authorities to be awarded a share of a £4million fund to invest in engaging the local community in cycling, creating a better infrastructure for bikes and to make cycling safer.

The money has been awarded by Transport For London as part of Mayor Of London Boris Johnson's so-called "cycling revolution". Research shows that more than half of the daily journeys in the capital that could be made by bicycle are in outer London.

Nilgun Canver, cabinet member for neighbourhoods, said: "We are really keen to improve the cycling network in the borough and to encourage more residents to get back on their bikes."

Specific areas likely to benefit from the money include Bikeability cycle training in schools, cycle route improvements and cycle parking.

The £325,000 cash boost will be spent over three years in addition to £450,000 also given by TfL over three years for cycling projects.

Tragic factory accident 'preventable'

By Monica Gibson

AN ACCIDENT in which a worker died after being hit on the head by a steel barrier could have been avoided, the Health And Safety Executive has ruled.

Balbir Rayatt, from Ilford, Essex, was carrying out repairs for car mat manufacturer Cannon Automotive Limited, in High Road, Tottenham, when the tragedy occurred.

A hearing held at the City of London Magistrates' Court was told that the firm had failed to assess the risks and implement a safe system of work for the machine Mr Rayatt, 55, had been maintaining.

Health And Safety Executive inspector Neil

Fry said: "This tragic death was utterly preventable. Poor standards and failure to keep working environments in a good condition are a major cause of these types of incidents."

The investigation found that the rubber mixing machine had not been stored in the correct manner and it had also been left unsecured.

It also found Cannon at fault for failing to supervise, monitor or review maintenance arrangements to ensure it met health and safety standards.

Cannon Automotive Limited pleaded guilty and was fined a total of £20,000 and ordered to pay court costs.

Musical triple treat comes to Ally Pally

ALEXANDRA PALACE consolidates its reputation as one of London's premiere music venues with the announcement of three massive gigs.

Returning to the glory days when Led Zeppelin, New Order and the Stone Roses used to play at the capital's most elevated venue, Ally Pally announced that Portishead, PJ Harvey, Grinderman, Swedish House Mafia, Dinosaur Jr and The Flaming Lips are just some of the A-List groups performing in Wood Green over the next few weeks.

Most eye-catching is the first ever I'll Be Your Mirror weekender, headlined on both nights by Bristol trip-hop giants, Portishead. They will be supported on Saturday, July 23 by PJ Harvey, Doom, Company Flow and a host of others while on the Sunday, July 24 it's the turn of Grinderman, Swans, Beach House and many more.

Before this aural scorcher, superstar DJs Swedish House Mafia promise to raise the roof with a range of crossover smashes including One (Your Name) and Miami 2 Ibiza.

That gig takes place on May 28

Cool strummer: PJ Harvey is one of the venue's three massive acts and May 29, followed by an indie line made in heaven when three classic bands perform one of their seminal albums over one night.

On July 1 The Flaming Lips recreate The Soft Bulletin, Dinosaur

Jr plays 1988's Bug, while Deerhoof take to the stage to perform their 2004 masterpiece, Milk Man.

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

- Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.

2. 'Classified' Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their name in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.

To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', '(T)' etc. in the advertisement.

- The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:

- Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;
 - Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or
 - Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.
- The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.
 - Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.
 - The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.
 - Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.

- All gross advertising rates (except classified lineage and semi-display) are subject to and include a 9.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.
- All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.
- Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.
- The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.

- Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.
- All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.
- Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.
- Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should Legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.

- Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.
- All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.
- All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.

- The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.
- The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

Box Numbers
Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods cash, cash stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A box Number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address. There is no charge for forwarding replies.

Box numbers alone are not available for use in 'Trade' advertisements, other than Employment and Business Opportunities.

Holiday & Travel Category
All advertising must contain the name of the advertiser, phone number alone are not permitted.

RAISING STANDARDS, BUILDING CAREERS

CACHE is a leading awarding organisation for care services. We've been making a difference since 1945 with our qualifications for those who enjoy working with people. We are proud that over the past 65 years we have supported generations of learners into further study, leading to employment within the children and young people's workforce, first as the NNEB and now as CACHE.

We are now extending into adult, health and social care workforce qualifications and are actively marketing CACHE with a focus on excellence and cutting edge services for customers.

Based at our St Albans office - close to major road and rail links - we have the following exciting opportunities:

Business Development Manager (9-12 month contract)

Salary £55,000 pa

Reporting directly to the Chief Executive you will be a key strategic driver behind our continued success in our chosen markets, delivering real commercial growth from the marketing, brand management, sales and regional support strategies you design. Directly liaising with customers, employers and stakeholders, you will also manage our Sales, Marketing and home based Regional Teams to develop and grow our business.

Experienced in strategic corporate marketing and sales planning and management, with strong tactical skills, you will bring real expertise in the full marketing mix plus a demonstrable record of leading successful projects to achieve enhanced sales growth. Experience of operating within a comparable service sector would be an advantage and you will be skilled in developing and costing new business ventures and competitive tenders. You will also need to be an enthusiastic, skilled and experienced strategic manager and team player, who will enjoy leading and motivating your teams to ensure your strategies turn into real achievements. Equally comfortable in managing people and data, you should have a sound understanding of how to exploit CRM data to monitor performance and identify business opportunities.

Market Insight Manager (9-12 month contract)

Salary £30,851 + £555 Outer Fringe Allowance pa

You will support our Marketing Team Manager to interpret the needs of the business and instigate research that is meaningful, relevant and insightful to assist the Senior Team to take strategic decisions.

With your experience of planning, implementing and extracting learning from market research programmes and delivering insight, you will contribute to strategic planning. Ideally experienced in the use of Microsoft CRM, you will keep the map of our market up to date, to understand changes in competitor and buyer behaviour and trends. You will assist colleagues in the field and in sales teams to capitalise on research based opportunities to increase sales and customer retention.

This is an exciting opportunity for a qualified and numerate marketing professional with good understanding of the marketing mix who wants to progress their career. The post holder will also act as Deputy to the Marketing Team Manager and will have ample opportunity to develop their skills and knowledge.

Sales Planner & Researcher (9-12 month contract)

Salary £30,851 + £555 Outer Fringe Allowance pa

You will support our Sales Team Manager to compile accurate sales forecasts and sales plans to achieve our business objectives and provide support and direction for our field sales teams. Your work will also monitor the effectiveness of our sales pipelines and provide reports and analysis on sales activity for our Senior Team.

Analysing market potential and building on our strengths, you will help develop tactical sales plans to achieve strategic business objectives, both nationally and regionally using the data you analyse and produce. Working closely with the Sales Team Manager at all times, you'll ensure that the customer facing sales force has access to the sales data and support it needs to keep us ahead.

You'll bring real expertise in producing accurate sales forecasts and a good understanding of business finance. Proven ability to monitor the effectiveness of sales plans, identify trends and lead generation is essential, together with a sound grasp of market segmentation. You should ideally have outstanding spreadsheet skills and experience of the extraction, analysis and use of data from Microsoft CRM, together with a can-do attitude. A team player, you will enjoy working in a busy team.

For an application pack please contact the Human Resources Department on 01727 818696, email humanresources@cache.org.uk

An application pack can also be downloaded from www.cache.org.uk/jobswithcache

Please note that CVs will only be accepted with a completed application form.

Spurs ace ruptures ankle ligaments

By Dominique Stafford

TOTTENHAM HOTSPUR remain optimistic that Gareth Bale will be fully fit in time for the start of next season, even though it has been confirmed that the Welsh international ruptured ankle ligaments during Saturday's Premier League draw at home to Blackpool.

The recently crowned Professional Footballers' Association player of the year was carried off in the early stages of the second half on Saturday following a poor challenge from Charlie Adam and a scan on Monday revealed the extent of the damage.

Bale has definitely been ruled out for the remainder of this campaign, but Spurs are hopeful that he will make a rapid recovery.

"Gareth will remain in a protective boot for up to 12 days before beginning rehabilitation," the club said in an official statement. "The player is expected to be fit for the start of pre-season."

Saturday's match saw Tottenham continue their poor recent run of form as they needed a late leveller from Jermain Defoe to snatch a 1-1 draw against the relegation-threatened Tangarines.

Adam had already seen one penalty saved by keeper Heurelho Gomes before Blackpool were awarded a second spot kick in the space of a minute when the keeper brought down Gary Taylor-Fletcher from the resulting corner.

The Scottish international made no mistake with his second attempt to give the visitors a lead which they held until Defoe's fine strike from distance in the 88th minute.

"We really needed a win," manager Harry Redknapp admitted. "Anything less was no good to us. We've struggled of late to score goals at home and we've not been able to kill teams off.

"We've had a few games where we've had lots of the play and passed the ball great but haven't managed to beat teams because we've not taken the opportunities we've created. You have spells like that.

"When we've needed that little bit of magic in the past months or six weeks Gareth has been injured and we've lost that little spark that turns draws into wins."

Injury woe: Gareth Bale will miss the rest of the campaign

Skolars suffer a crushing defeat against Widnes

THE London Skolars' interest in the Carnegie Challenge Cup predictably came to an end in the fourth round on Sunday when they suffered a 62-18 defeat at home to Widnes Vikings.

The Skolars were always likely to face a tough task against the seven-time winners of the competition, who have been granted a licence to play in the Super League next season.

And so it proved as two early tries from Macgraff Leuluai gave them a firm grip on the match which they never relinquished.

Further scores from David Allen, Tangi Ropati and Paddy Flynn (two) helped Widnes move 32-0 ahead by the interval, before the Skolars hit back through Jaroslaw Obuchowski's converted try early in the second half.

Flynn completed his hat-trick and Grant Gore also touched down for the visitors before James Anthony and Dave Arnot scored tries for the Skolars, which were both converted by Dylan Skee.

But Widnes' superior fitness told in the closing stages, with Flynn grabbing his fourth try of the match and Steve Tyrer and Allen also touching down. Tyrer also kicked seven goals as the match finished with an identical score to when the teams met in the Northern Rail Cup earlier in the season.

The London Skolars return to Co-Operative Championship One action on Sunday when they host Workington (2pm).
